Auto TOC

Starting in Tiki12, a new feature to allow adding an automatic Table Of Contents ("Auto TOC") has been added to the Wiki. And starting in Tiki23, you can have more options via PluginAutoTOC

Enable it

Auto-toc can be enabled as admin through the admin panel in "Admin home > Wiki > General Preferences (Tab) > Section Automatic table of contents (Page Display before Tiki 15) > Wiki auto-toc"

You can also choose:

- the default for each page (which can be overridden per page)
- If the top TOC should be inserted into the page content or not
- Position left or right
- Offset from the top

Auto TOC is not included in the print view of the page.

Usage

Auto-toc will add the TOC in two places.

1. A static TOC located at the top of the page. The TOC is inserted into the page content at runtime.
   - Example:
Thank you for installing the Collaborative Community Profile

Welcome to Our Community

Step 1: Explore
- Search for Content
- Visit Wiki Pages
- Read Blogs and Forums

Step 2: Ask a Question and Give Feedback
- Register to become part of the community
- Ask questions in the Forums
- Give feedback using Comments at the bottom of any page

Step 3: Contribute
- Start Creating, Editing and Enhancing our Community Knowledge Base.

2. A floating TOC, located at the top of the browser window. This TOC is only visible when you scroll down past the top of the page.

   Example:

   Additionally, you can also see it in action in the screencast below.

   !Screencast

   Disable it in some pages

   You can disable it in some wiki pages. In order to do so, edit the page, go to the properties tab, and set "Page display options > Automatic Table of Contents generation" to "off":

   !Disable TOC
Related pages

- PluginToc
- PluginMaketoc - makes a table of contents from the headings on a page

Aliases

- Autotoc
- Auto-toc