In TikiWiki, what other projects call add-ons, extensions, plugins, modules are known as mods: meaning extra features or modifications to the code that are not part of the main code base.

TikiWiki also includes a large number of features, plugins and modules, which are all bundled. You just need to activate in the admin panels.