Percona Server for MySQL

Tiki can use Percona Server for MySQL in two ways:

- As a database. This is where your data is stored. The default storage engine is InnoDB. The other database choices are MySQL and MariaDB.
- As a search index. This is a temporary copy of some of your data, optimized for quick retrieval. The index options are explained here: Unified Index Comparison

See also

- Requirements
- MySQL replication
- MySQL SSL
- Database independence
- MariaDB vs MySQL strategy
- File Storage