From this normal looking Tiki page (central and right columns in wiki view mode)...

The screenshot shows a Tiki Wiki page in 'wiki view mode'. The page has a light blue header with navigation links: Home, About, First Steps, Community, Forums, Support, and Extras. Below the header, the main content area displays the title 'Presentation to Crisol' and a URL <http://www.crisolargentina.org.ar/>. It also lists the date 'March 19th 2005' and the software 'Tiki CMS/Groupware'. The authors are listed as 'Marc Laporte (Canada) Project admin' and 'Martin Sarsale aka Runix (Argentina) Developer'. The page is divided into sections: 'Introduction' and 'Philosophy'. The 'Introduction' section contains a bulleted list of features and installation details. The 'Philosophy' section contains a bulleted list of project goals. On the right side, there is a sidebar with a search box, a 'Quick edit a Wiki page' button, and a 'Menu' section listing various site features like MyTiki, Wiki, Image Galleries, Articles, Blogs, Forums, Directory, File Galleries, FAQs, and TikiSheet.
