Clipperz online password manager

For password management, you could of course save passwords in wiki pages which are permission protected, but they are not encrypted there. So anyone with access to your MySQL database can read the content of the pages. To avoid this, you can use the new User Encryption feature in 12.2

Alternatively, you can either use the ~~free~~ soon paid service at clipperz.com or run the Open Source Clipperz Community Edition

alias

- Password manager
- Password management
- Password
- Clipperz