From this normal looking Tiki page (central and right columns in wiki view mode)...

The screenshot shows a Tiki Wiki page with a navigation menu at the top: Home, About, First Steps, Community, Forums, Support, Extras. The main content area is titled "Presentation to Crisol" and includes a description: "Presentation to Crisol, an open source conference in Argentina". Below this is a link to "http://www.crisolargentina.org.ar/", the date "March 19th 2005", and the text "Tiki CMS/Groupware". The author is listed as "Marc Laporte (Canada) Project admin" and the developer as "Martin Sarsale aka Runix (Argentina) Developer". The page has two sections: "Introduction" and "Philosophy". The "Introduction" section lists several bullet points: "Wiki + CMS + Groupware", "PHP/ADODB/Smarty/LGPL", "Installs on Linux, Windows or Mac", "Started in October 2002 by Luis Argerich (Argentina)", and "Excellent for mixte Web/Intranet environment". The "Philosophy" section lists: "We eat our own 'DogFood' -> this presentation is in Tiki" and "Classic open source project: release early, release". On the right side, there is a search box for "Search Wiki PageName" with a "go" button, a "Quick edit a Wiki page" box with an "edit" button, and a "Menu" section with links to Home, Categories, MyTiki, Wiki, Image Galleries, Articles, Blogs, Forums, Directory, File Galleries, FAQs, and TikiSheet.
