renaming pages : keep a redirection from old to new page

Hi:

I've seen that Permissions Settings has been renamed to something else... (refactoring, etc.)

However, since there are many places linking to this page, I would encourage to keep pages with the old names (like Permissions+Settings), redirecting the user to the new page, or informing users that the content has been refactored to X, Y and Z pages, etc. (with links)

So, is it just a renaming to Groups admin, in this case?
