What happened to the Mittwoch theme?

Did anyone change things to cause oversized text in the main column? I've only checked in Opera so far, but some text is way larger than before. (See themes.tw.o for the correct look.)

Also, some modules aren't using Mittwoch's template files, resulting in font-size inconsistency. My FTP program is busy right now and so I can't check <ftp://doc.tw.o> but it's odd that we're seeing the default, table-using modules in this theme.

Also, I notice in the page source a `u style="display:none;"` that precedes even the xml and doctype tags, and a closing `u` tag at the very end of the source (in at least a couple of themes so I suppose it isn't theme related). Anybody know the cause of that?

Forum style is also strange, with some font sizes off. Maybe this is due to a site template update?

(Just coming back after fixing two vandalized Tiki sites, so I'm a little wary...)
